News You Can Use

September 2024

NEW NMVC RESOURCES

The NMVC is pleased to announce the launch of the Virtual Resiliency Center (VRC), the first-of-its kind website that centralizes evidence-based resources to help victims, survivors and communities affected by mass violence. The VRC (<https://massviolence.help/>) features four sections:

- Victim & Social Services
- Social Connection & Empowerment
- Health & Wellness
- Managing Grief & Trauma

Each section includes easy-to-understand, credible information; videos of survivors and expert service providers sharing their insights; and links to other reliable sources of information for further exploration. The VRC addresses topics such as victims' rights, social support and relationships after mass violence, stress management, grief and trauma reactions, and managing substance use after an MVI. Additionally, the NMVC team can quickly coordinate with officials after an MVI to create a community-specific, customized resource page associated with the VRC at the VRC website. This function will allow communities to guide affected victims and survivors to existing VRC resources and to share community-specific information relevant to their mass violence crime. This tool offers communities the framework for sharing credible information and consistent messaging.
